

The Things Industry Demands When It Looks Over New Community

In a speech at Stuttgart Thursday night C. Hamilton Moses, president of the Arkansas Economic Council-State Chamber of Commerce, disclosed that the DuPont company is looking for a new plant-site, and Arkansas might have a chance for it.

Mr. Moses went on to say that the specific requirement for the DuPont plant is water, a lot of it—25 million gallons a day. But there are general requirements every industry makes of a community in which it proposes to settle a big plant. Said Mr. Moses: "The community must have more than the 25 million gallons of water. It must have adequate school facilities, churches, hospitals, and sewers."

And then the speaker turned to the handicaps which threaten to keep new industry out of Arkansas. He listed them as four:

1. Arkansas' rating on the money markets in the East.
2. Better tax structures of other states.
3. Better inducements of other states.
4. Arkansas' unlimited school tax ceiling.

I was particularly struck by No. 4—because the repeal of the 18-mill school tax ceiling was done very recently (1948), was fought by this newspaper, and is now viewed with suspicion by the very professional school folks who supported it, because it hurt us industrially without doing the job for the schools it was supposed to do.

Figures are funny animals—particularly local figures. They mean one thing in the community or state where they are compiled, but it takes a full amount of explaining to keep them from meaning something entirely different a thousand miles away. Arkansas' school property tax is very light in actual dollars, compared to that of the big industrial states—but our rate figures are frightening.

You mention to an Easterner a millage total ranging from 40 to 50 or 60 and he'll jump out of his chair with shock. It takes a week of explaining to get over to him our story of low assessments and small dollar total—assessment multiplied by millage.

Actually you could hit him for a great many more dollars with a low millage figure and a 100 per cent assessment, and get less protest.

It was stupid from any viewpoint to repeal the 18-mill school tax ceiling, knowing that even an 18-mill school tax meant an overall total in the average Arkansas city of more than 40 mills.

The obvious, common-sense move would have been to jack up our ridiculous assessment level.

The no-limit millage business didn't get the schools anywhere, and we had to jack up the assessment level anyway.

Now we're left in the poor industrial propaganda position of being a state with an active assessment reform program—and a no-limit millage.

It doesn't make sense.

But then a lot of things cooked up by the Jim-dandies of the State Department of Education when proposing to advise the people on taxation and business policy don't make sense. If somebody else didn't exercise thought and judgment there wouldn't be a school-house left in the land for these gentry to send their bulletins to.

Draft Board Seeks Whereabouts of Negro Registrant

It is very important that Charlie R. Fred Brown, captain of the local B. Co. 29, City Hall, Hope, at once.

This registrant is a negro man, and at the time he registered, lived in Cobb's Quarters in Hope.

If there is anyone in Hempstead county who knows the present whereabouts or the address of the said Charlie R. Fred Brown, Selective Service Local Board No. 29 will appreciate being given this information immediately.

Pulaski GOP Calls Meeting

Little Rock, Sept. 15 — (AP) — Pulaski county Republicans will meet here Sept. 24 to decide whether to put a candidate in the general election against Little Rock Mayor Sam Wassell, Democratic nominee for re-election.

Pratt C. Rummel, chairman of the Pulaski county Republican committee, said yesterday his party still is considering entering a candidate in the race.

"We don't want a token race," said Rummel, who has indicated he might oppose Wassell. "If we get in, we will be in it to win."

Rummel said his name might be entered on the Nov. 6 general election ballot both as a Republican and an independent.

Previously, Atty. Gen. Ike Murry ruled that such an arrangement would be illegal. Murry said a candidate's name can appear only once on the ballot.

Wessel won the Democratic nomination for a third term last Aug. 14, defeating alderman Franklin Loy.

It all started several weeks ago when a Springfield Hill man killed a mere 5-foot snake with 10 rattlers.

Benson Leads DeQueen Over Hope 26-0

By DONALD HOBBS

Buddy Bob Benson, DeQueen's brilliant quarterback, led his team to a 26-0 victory over the Bobcats last night in a contest that showed little doubt of the outcome at the start.

Benson, rounding out his fourth year of high school football, operated with the precision of a well-oiled machine. He returned a Hope punt 45 yards for the second touchdown and raced 36 yards for another and set up the others.

Although Benson was easily the outstanding player on the field he had plenty of help from a sturdy Leopards line that completely mastered the Hope eleven.

Hope's only serious scoring threat came in the final period when Orville Bright broke loose on a 74-yard jaunt to the DeQueen 4. Then the Leopards line, headed by Buddy Smith, really started working and when the series was over Hope was back on its heels.

Hope got in a hole with the kickoff. Stanford was caught near the Hope goal line and the Bobcats were forced to punt out.

DeQueen came straight back to score with James Hubbard going over for the tally. Then came Benson's 45 yard scoring sprint. In the third period, Benson scored again. In the final period Paul Smith ran 20 yards for the final DeQueen tally.

Statistically Hope gained 148 yards from scrimmage to DeQueen's 184. Hope threw 4 passes with no completion, DeQueen completed 3 of 6; Hope fumbled one time and recovered and DeQueen fumbled 8 times and recovered 5. Hope drew one 5 yard penalty and DeQueen drew 5 for 45. Hope made 17 first downs and DeQueen made 16.

Local Major Receives Citation

Major Frank C. Malone, son of Mrs. Frank C. Malone, 522 West 4th St., Hope, is now serving with the 34th Air Division (Defense) at Kieldair Air Force Base, N. M.

His wife, the former Lucille Hutson, and three children, Nancy F. Lynda 3, and Patrick 6 months, reside at 187 Perimeter Drive, Albuquerque.

The Korean veteran received the first oakleaf cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross in lieu of an additional flying cross. The award was presented at a formal inspection by Col. William Matheny, Commanding officer of the 34th Air Division.

The citation was received by Major Malone for extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight in support of United Nations efforts in Korea-Chorwon area of enemy held Korea on March 27, 1951.

While leading a flight of two F-51 type aircraft on an armed reconnaissance flight, Major Malone successfully located several expertly camouflaged gun positions and enemy troop movements. The location and manner in which this area was defended gave the appearance of an enemy Command Post. Through intense automatic ground fire Major Malone pressed repeated rocket and strafing attacks and personally destroyed four enemy gun positions.

Upon returning to his home base it was found that Major Malone's discovery of the well camouflaged area coincided with maps from friendly ground forces that an active enemy command post was operating in the same location. A few hours later, Major Malone led a flight of twelve F-51 type aircraft back to the area he had previously discovered, and with devastating attacks with rockets, napalm, and machine gun fire his flight completely demolished the command post, silencing all gun positions and killing an unknown number of enemy troops.

Although several aircraft were damaged by enemy ground fire, Major Malone successfully led his flight safely back to their home base. The destruction inflicted upon the enemy was a great contribution to the United Nations efforts in this area.

Major Malone has flown a total of 104 combat missions. In addition to the Distinguished Flying Cross, Major Malone has the Air Medal with four oakleaf clusters.

Major Malone is a graduate of Emmet high school, Emmet, Ark., and attended Magnolia A&M college, Magnolia.

Snakes Are Getting Bigger All the Time

Ernie P. Lively of Hope takes first in the "snakes killing contest" which apparently is underway throughout the county. Mr. Lively killed a 6 foot 2 inch rattler on Hickory Creek in north Hempstead that had 18 rattlers and a button.

It all started several weeks ago when a Springfield Hill man killed a mere 5-foot snake with 10 rattlers.

Fight Looms Over Jessup's Appointment

Washington, Sept. 15 — (AP) — A brisk fight appeared shaping up today against senate confirmation of Philip C. Jessup as one of the U. S. representatives to the United Nations.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) told a reporter he has asked the senate foreign relations committee to delay action on the Jessup nomination and that of Chester Bowles, former Connecticut governor, to be ambassador to India.

The committee will meet Monday to discuss these and other appointments made yesterday by President Truman. Hickenlooper said he has served notice he wants hearings held on Jessup and Bowles.

At the same time, Senator McCarran (D-Nev) said he hasn't made up his mind whether he will oppose confirmation of Jessup, who has been serving as ambassador at large.

McCarran told a reporter the senate internal security committee which he heads may have some information later involving Jessup. He has been accused by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) with having "an affinity for Communist causes."

Senator Brewster (R-Me) said the Jessup and Bowles appointments may be discussed by the Senate Republican policy committee in a meeting Monday. Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the group, was out of town and could not be reached for comment.

Brewster, a foreign relations member, said he will oppose confirmation of Bowles on the ground that the nominee has no diplomatic experience and is being sent to a "delicate spot" in the assignment to India.

"We ought to have one of our best diplomats in New Delhi and not an untried amateur," Brewster declared.

Hickenlooper said he thinks Bowles' appointment should be subjected to hearings "on general grounds."

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) told the senate yesterday he hopes the foreign relations group will question carefully all of the nominees for the U. N. appointments about their views on admitting Red China to the international organization.

Chicago Tavern Owner Killed

Calumet City, Ill., Sept. 15 — (AP) — Arthur Helfer, 41, identified by police as owner of six taverns in Calumet City, was shot to death early today near his home.

Police Sgt. Walter Maciejewski said two or more assassins pumped eight to ten bullets into Helfer at close range. There were powder marks on Helfer's face and clothing the policeman said. Indicating the close range of the shooting, Maciejewski said Helfer apparently was ambushed and that robbery was not a motive. His money and other personal effects were still intact.

The sergeant said Helfer left a club a few minutes before the shooting and drove to his home. He parked his car on the driveway next to his house, Maciejewski said, and walked about nine feet towards his garage when the shooting occurred.

Maciejewski said that in June someone fired one shot at Helfer in front of his garage but that Helfer passed it off as a robbery attempt.

McCarthy Says Truman Not Disloyal

Coldwater, Mich., Sept. 15 — (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) says that "President Truman is both stupid and stubborn but I do not believe the President is disloyal."

McCarthy said this in a speech here yesterday.

The senator gave out some advice on 1952 campaign tactics. He said the Republican party should not use his Communist-in-government charges as political ammunition in 1952.

"Many Democrats hate communism as much as I do," he said, "it's time for loyal American Democrats to realize they must recapture their party."

"The Democrats right now don't have a party in Washington. A new party which might be called the Commiecrat party is now in control in Washington."

McCarthy criticized President Truman's announced intention of retaining Secretary of State Dean Acheson "as long as I'm President."

He charged that Acheson's announced retention means "we have been sold out. It means disaster for the United States and success for Soviet Russia."

McCarthy spoke at a fair for 4-H club youngsters. Most of his audience, however, were adults. Among them were Republican state officials of Michigan.

Of Mr. Truman's remarks regarding Acheson the senator said further:

"That means the entire Yalta crowd which has signed the death warrant of every American boy who has died in Korea and which also has signed the death warrant of Western civilization now stays with us."

McCarthy said the Western world in the last six years "has been losing 100,000,000 persons per year to communism."

He said that international communism, unless stopped, "in the next 15 years will have achieved its final aims."

Americans Did a Fine Job as Colonials But Its Good They Are Returning Home

New York, — (AP) — Signing of the Japanese peace treaty will start a new migration to America.

It is the signal for the mass return of some of our native sons, times referred to overseas as "the American colonials." And the long voyage home is going to be a sad disillusionment to many of them.

Who are the American colonials? They are a post-war phenomenon. They are U. S. citizens who, ever since the end of the second world war, have remained in foreign countries and represented the American way — in one way or another.

Some spread culture for the Voice of America. Some scattered dollars for the ECA. Some held clerical or civilian executive posts in our swollen staffs that supervised occupied Germany and Japan. Some represented legitimate business. A few were 20th century carpetbaggers, trying to browbeat a fast buck out of a fallen foe.

But one common bond usually linked all American colonials, good or bad. They had life easier there than they'd ever had it here.

A man who had been lucky to afford three beers at a sidewalk stand back home found he could loll at ease in a plush club there and afford all the Scotch and soda he could consume. A housewife used to doing her own laundry in Kansas City discovered that in Berlin or Tokyo her budget might cover a gardener, a maid, a cook, a governess and a girl-of-work.

Nope, they'd never had it so good. The wise ones took the good times as a windfall, did their jobs well, and put back their money

Dr. Dolph Camp to Address Lions Club

Dr. Dolph Camp of the Southern State College Magnolia will be the guest speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Hope Lions Club Monday at noon at the Hotel Barlow.

Dr. Camp came to the presidency of Southern State last from the position of State Supervisor of Occupation Information and Guidance Service of the State Department of Education.

Under his term the college has made much progress, and it is thought in one more year that it will be made a four year senior college. All members of the club are requested to be present.

The 'Steamer' Still Leading Auto-Race

Avon, N. Y., Sept. 15 — (AP) — Jack Brasseur's puffing Stanley Steamer led Rube De Launty's Stoddard Dayton by an hour and 20 minutes in elapsed time as they prepared to coax their ancient autos today over the sixth leg of their Chicago-to-New York race.

Brasseur and his 1913 car have traveled 700.6 miles so far in 35 hours and one minute. De Launty's 1911 model made the run from Chicago in 36 hours and 21 minutes.

The battle to decide whether gas or steam power is better will see a third old car get in the act. In Geneva, Robert N. Teague, an auto dealer, will escort the Steamer and Stoddard through town with his 1910 Regal. Geneva is 35 miles east of here.

Teague says he plans to meet the racers at the city line and escort them through the city. Mayor Arthur M. McCann of Geneva is scheduled to ride with Teague, who passed up an appearance at the Grand Prix road race at Watkins Glen, to meet Brasseur and De Launty.

It was practically a dead heat when the others roared into Avon last night. De Launty, 70, pulled his Stoddard up at the village square only 10 seconds ahead of 76-year-old Brasseur.

De Launty had overhauled Brasseur when the Steamer stopped for water. Heavy traffic made the Stoddard late getting out of Buffalo.

"I like my Stanley Steamer better. It makes less noise," he said.

Part of the act before the racers left Buffalo was the in-motion fueling of the Steamer's water tank from the "mother ship" helicopter.

The time of arrival in New York is scheduled to be sometime on Monday. But nobody is betting on it. The party hopes to stop tonight near Utica and in Albany tomorrow night.

for a rainy day. But the lush living also turned a lot of heads, and the American colonial at this point was more insufferable than the worst type of British colonial, bad manners he aped buy whose sureness of authority he never quite achieved.

The favorite blast of this type of American colonial, when he couldn't get the price he wanted on the black market or the fee melted in his highball, was an injured, "Well, who won the war anyway? We've got to keep these people in their place."

But he didn't fool the average German or Japanese. They knew who won the war. The American soldier, not the American colonial.

Now the lush years are about over. With Allied government supervision lifting in both Japan and Germany the American colonials are finding their privileges and their jobs evaporating.

Many, let out of one post, are frantically grabbing for a spot with other American agencies operating around the world. Anything to keep from coming back to the reality here. For a number who have come home have written back to them:

"For heaven's sake, be smart and stay over there on the gravy train as long as you can. The prices here will murder you."

By and large, the American colonials did about as fine a job as could be expected, given the temptations they had. But it's a good thing most of them are going to come back home.

The American isn't meant by nature or training to be either a colonial or a colonial boss.

Actor Badly Beaten in a Fight

Hollywood, Sept. 15 — (AP) — Actor Franchot Tone may have a visit today from the blonde actress over whom he lost in a fight with a rival for her affections, but there was some doubt that his condition would permit it.

His physician told newsmen early today that Tone's condition was much the same as last night — serious, conscious only part of the time but not at death's door.

Whether blonde Barbara Payton can see "Tone depends on the doctor's say so. She has indicated she would visit him and that perhaps she and Tone would give a joint statement about the terrific racket with Actor Tom Neal.

Neal claimed that Tone started it all early yesterday morning, but Miss Payton declared that Tone "is not the sort of man who would strike anyone first."

This much, however, is definite: The wedding of Neal and Miss Payton, scheduled for today in San Francisco, is off, probably for good, as the result of one of the fiercest and most lopsided fights in Hollywood annals — on or off the screen.

Tone, a Phi Beta Kappa man, came out of it with his patrician nose shattered, a broken cheek bone, and a brain concussion. His physician, Dr. Lee Siegel, said the actor may want to discuss the fight with district attorney's investigators whenever his condition permits. Police Chief William Parker has ordered an investigation, but no charges have been filed.

"I'm sorry to hear the guy's in a hospital," he said. "I hope he's not hurt bad."

Tone, 46, scaled 155 pounds, Neal, 35, weighed 180. All blows but the first one, according to Neal, were delivered by him.

"The first blow," Miss Payton contradicted, "knocked Franchot out. He was completely out. Tom beat him unmercifully after that."

A neighbor who glimpsed the scrap in Miss Payton's patio early yesterday morning said she pulled Neal away after he had rendered Tone supine.

The fight took place the day after Miss Payton obtained her final decree of divorce from her second husband, John Payton, a used car salesman. Events leading up to it were as follows:

Miss Payton, 25, had been dating Tone steadily until about a month and a half ago. Last year, in fact, she figured prominently in a child custody battle between him and his ex-wife, Jean Wallace, now married to Actor Cornel Wilde.

Tone testified at the hearing that he had frequently observed Miss Payton in the nude. Hollywood reports that they soon would marry.

Then along came Neal. He and Miss Payton met at a party. It was a swimming party and, as Miss Payton admitted later in the figure prints, it was the he-man Paul Neal cut in a swim suit that attracted her to him. Exit Tone.

Allies Capture High Ground in Rough Fight

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 15 — (AP) — Allied troops wielding bayonets today captured strategic high ground northwest of Kumhwa after a two-hour hand-to-hand battle with Red troops.

Three times the Allies stormed the hill. Twice they were pushed back by small arms, machine gun and mortar fire from deep bunkers on the slopes. The third time they used bayonets and drove the Communists off.

The action lasted 10 hours.

Elsewhere on the west-central front U. N. troops were subjected to heavy artillery and mortar fire throughout the day.

The Reds were "thrown off one peak north of Yanggu, but held fast to four others."

The mountains of eastern Korea echoed with the blast of an all-out artillery barrage that set a new high for this sector of the front.

AP Correspondent Stan Carter said an Allied tank force probing a river valley north of Yanggu was hit by heavy Red mortar and artillery fire and slowed by crude Communist road blocks of logs and boulders.

Reds on one mountain peak in the east successfully drove off a day-long attack by Allied troops. The peak, northeast of Inje, was honeycombed with bunkers and pill boxes from which the Reds threw a murderous curtain of fire.

The western front was relatively quiet.

An 11-minute practice alert blacked out the South Korean capital of Seoul Saturday night. A bright moon made it a perfect night for bombing and for some minutes there was speculation in Seoul the Reds were opening their long expected air offensive.

There was still no sign of any general Red offensive. But dispatch from Hong Kong said the Chinese Communists were moving 100,000 militia troops to Korea.

The dispatch said the story was printed in a Hong Kong newspaper which quoted a "reliable source."

Friday's biggest action was in the east, where U. S. marines captured one hill and repulsed a Red attack on another.

The fierce fighting, some involving battles lasting up to 14 hours, raged at points along an 80-mile front extending from Kumsong in central Korea to the east coast.

In the west, where the Allies are on the alert for an expected Red offensive, planes and artillery knocked out three of eight Communist tanks spotted 35 miles north of Seoul Friday.

Last night was quiet in the west despite a full moon, the type of clear weather which in the past has been favored by the Reds for massed manpower assaults.

North east of the "punch bowl," 20 miles north of parallel 38 in eastern Korea, elements of the U. S. First Marine Division seized one wooded height and beat off a determined Red counterattack against another hill. Remnants of a Red battalion were cleared from a third hill in the punch bowl area.

Allied regiments north and northeast of Yanggu still were denied a hill mass which they have been assaulting for four days in a row. Yanggu is seven miles north of Parallel 38 and is 14 miles southwest of the punch bowl.

Between the spring and autumn, a single pair of rabbits will increase a hundredfold.

McMath Insists Nothing Wrong With Tax Return

Little Rock, Sept. 15 — (AP) — Governor McMath says he can see no reason why federal authorities are curious about money he received from three Crittendon county political supporters.

"It is well established that campaign contribution expended in a political campaign are not assessed against the candidate as personal income for tax purpose," said McMath.

His statement was in answer to a move by U. S. District Attorney James P. Gooch to compel the West Memphis business men to divulge details of financial transactions with McMath in 1948.

McMath ran for his first term as governor in 1948. He now is serving his second two-year term.

Gooch asked the federal court here for an order requiring the men, John Mac Smith of the Marx, Glantz and Planters bank of West Memphis, J. C. Johnson and J. C. McCaa, auto dealers to explain checks made out to the governor.

The action was filed in connection with an investigation of Governor McMath's income tax returns between 1948 and 1948.

The pollition said the three men had been asked to appear before special internal revenue agent John Emery last May but had not complied.

McMath said his funds he received from the men were campaign contributions, adding that the information sought by the government was provided by investigators several months ago.

At West Memphis, McCaa said he had not been notified of any hearing.

"When they subpoena me, I'll be there," he said, adding:

"I made a campaign contribution of about $3,000. That was all it was. It is the only dealing I have ever had with Mr. McMath. It's all past history as far as I'm concerned."

Johnson said that he had declined to supply the data when asked to do so last April on the ground that it would "confirm the position of a 'prosecution'."

"Since we haven't been asked in any terms (with McMath), we decided the best policy would be to let the government do the legal action rather than have it appear that we were in the role of prosecutors."

Sixth was not available for comment.

In prepared statement, McMath said:

"In 1947, one year before I announced for governor, my supporters in Crittendon county, including Judge J. C. Johnson, John Mac Smith and J. C. McCaa, pledged to raise $10,000 for me in their county if I made the race. Before the Democratic primary was over, I received $10,000 from supporters in Crittendon county in accordance with their pledge."

Then the Democratic primary was over in 1948, the campaign continued. My opposition pledged to enter a candidate against me in the general election. I made a concerted effort to raise over the state Democratic primary organization in order to carry the state for (Strom) Thurmond and (Fielding) L. Wright who led the States Rights Democrats' ticket in 1948 and against the regular party nominees. During this period, my supporters from Crittendon county contributed additional funds."

"At the request of the internal revenue department, this information, with supporting a $10,000 from principal contributors in Crittendon county was supplied to them several months ago."

The summons delivered yesterday to J. C. Johnson, John Mac Smith and Jake McCaa was dated May 22, 1951. I am at liberty to understand why the bureau is having these summons served, particularly in view of the fact that this information has been furnished to them."

DOROTHY DIX

Inconsiderate Friends

Dear Miss Dix: I am engaged to a boy in Korea and I love him very much. I go to high school and the girls often ask me, "What if he doesn't come back?" I firmly believe he will come back, but it bothers me when people constantly bring the question up.

Answer: It sometimes is very hard to hold on to one's faith in the face of such pessimistic questioning. But hold your faith! It's a good friend, indeed, who will try to help you to weaken your morale at a time when it is already bound to be pretty low. Avoid such pessimistic people as much as possible and seek those who will give you verbal assurance that your betrothed will return to carry out your wedding plans.

You Must Have Faith

Women with boys in service overseas are they sons, husbands or sweethearts need a special kind of faith. They are powerless to control the destinies of their men to the smallest degree, and this inability to help renders the situation doubly hard to bear. Added to this is the uncertainty from day to day of the boy's welfare.

Miss Kilowatt in Washington

Washington, Sept. 14.—(P)—Miss Shari Smith, of Wynne, Ark., who is Arkansas' "Miss Kilowatt" of 1951, will be entertained at a capital luncheon next Monday.

Rep. Gathings D-Ark. said he has arranged the luncheon in the office of Les Biffle, secretary of the senate. He has invited Vice President Barkley, Presidential Assistant John Steadman, Secretary of the Army Pace, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and members of the Arkansas congressional delegation.

SPOLIO VICTIM DIES

Little Rock, Sept. 14.—(P)—Little Rock's fourth polio fatality this year, Jenney Lee Rummel, died in a hospital here yesterday. She was a physician's office receptionist.
